

In the specification:

Delete the paragraph beginning on page 72, line 14, and replace with the following paragraph there for:

--An instance of software (SW) 311 is provided to execute on verification server 309. Software 311 is adapted to enable server 309 to accept process verification-requests communicated thereto by third party servers. It is important to note herein, then a verification server 309 running software 311 may be adapted to handle requests from third party clients as well as handling personalized interfacing with network-connected users. As such, server 309 may also function as a portal server as taught in co-related specifications listed in the cross-reference section. The inventor dedicates server 309 as a verification server for exemplary purpose only.--
